The La Kretz Innovation Campus is Los Angeles' new cleantech industry hub - 60,000 square feet on 3.2 acres featuring offices, conference rooms, R&D labs, prototype manufacturing workshop, training center, and event space, in addition to LADWP laboratories for both Customer Engagement and Energy Efficiency and Technology. Directly adjacent to a new Arts District Park, the building features surface parking with a 175 kilowatt photovoltaic solar canopy, greywater filtration, bioswale, and microgrid systems, all in the heart of LA's Cleantech Corridor.
